Notebooks Distribution Project 2019

Many of the children who are studying in Government schools in and around Bangalore are not able to buy notebooks needed for their studies. The state Government supports them with text books only. Considering this situation and after discussing with the headmasters, FAMIN has decided to provide sets of notebooks needed for the children. For this project we have selected some Government Schools. Apart from the schools, we have also provided notebooks to a community education center and children who have approached directly for educational supports. Below are the details of the children who have received the notebooks.

1. Bidarahalli Government High School (260 Children)
2. Immadihalli Government High School (95 Childred)
3. Bidarahalli Government Primary School (180 Children)
4. BK Halli Community Education Center (10 Children)
5. Direct individual help requests to FAMIN (20 Children)

We have collected the required number of notebooks from the respective class teachers of the selected schools. Based on the consolidated requirements list, we approached a notebook manufacturing company called 'Chandra's' to supply notebooks on subsidized prices. We packed the notebooks and distributed them to the children.

Our idea of this project is to motivate the children to study better and to enable them to complete the academic year without any hurdles due to shortage of notebooks.

What do they use notebooks for?

- Class work
- Home work
- Test Note
- Handwriting
- Drawing
- Mathematics
- Exam Preparation
